The lined out reference on the 1449 form was not provided in its entirety.

Claim 5 and 18-20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

There is no antecedent basis for "(B)". Secondly, such an adduct would no longer contain a phosphonic acid group – the phosphonic acid group undoubtedly reacts with the epoxy.

Claims 18-20 provides for the use of the microgel, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced. The claims do indicate any relationship between the coating and the microgel.

Claims 18-20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2,3,7 and 8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Chang '532.

Chang exemplifies (first table of col 10) polymerizing methacrylic acid, hydroxyethylacrylate and alkylmethacrylates in the presence of the chain transfer agent DMG COBALT3. Vinylphosphonic acid (col 5 line 50) can be used in place of DMG COBALT3. Such a polymerization qualifies as applicant's step a). The resulting macromer is then polymerized with additional monomers (second table of col 10). This qualifies as applicant's additional step recited in claim 3. The resulting material is then reacted with Cymel301 (a melamine resin) and other additives which qualifies as applicant's step b).

Claims 1,4,6 and 9-17 are allowable as Chang does suggest the further radical polymerization c) subsequent to reacting with aminoplast.

Claims 2,3,7 and 8 of this application conflict with claims 1,2,5 and 6 of Application No. 10-567616. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application.

Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822.

Claims 2,3,7 and 8 provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1,2,5 and 6 of copending Application No. 10-567616. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

WO 01/93820 exemplifies (#1) a copolymer of acrylic acid/vinylphosphonic acid/hydroxyethylacrylate, but lacks the aminoplast.
